Do you enjoy writing? Have you ever thought that your writing skills could be useful in missions?

The Centre "Handicaps en Avant" and Mahadaga Medical Center are two well established medical ministries in the Mahadaga area with numerous opportunities to express God's love to a wide variety of individuals. Both centers are SIM projects and are supported by many individuals and organizations, both in prayer and in finances. Providing an up-to-date newsletter would keep present supporters, partners, stakeholders, and the broader SIM community well informed and connected to the ministry and has the potential to raise awareness and support, both in prayer and in finance, among new readers.

You would have two primary functions. First, to gather stories and pictures in order to create monthly, quarterly, and annual reports and newsletters for the Centre "Handicaps en Avant" and for the medical center in Mahadaga. Second, you will train a Burkinabe employee in each of the two organizations in necessary writing skills, such as story forms, report writing, and style requirements.
