Career Education

Priority Normal

Use your English teaching ability to come alongside young people who have never had the chance to interact regularly with a true follower of Jesus. Many in Asia want to practice and improve their English. An English teacher can help equip them for better jobs (a felt need) and, at the same time, will naturally build relationships with students and their families. Unreached people who might have never had significant contact with a follower of Christ can have an opportunity for meaningful interaction with a true believer.
