Are you looking for a challenging ministry in a remote rural area to an unreached, indigenous people group? You can use your practical skill or your professional training (e.g., medical, dentistry, agricultural, veterinary, computer technology, etc.) to open doors for the Gospel in isolated communities. You would seriously impact improvement to people's living conditions while building relationships within the community. As you create an environment in which the Good News of Jesus Christ can be shared, you can encourage, support, and disciple local believers.

Is God urging you into this unique opportunity?
