

Media and Arts

SIM is looking for innovative and gifted artists who are passionate about communicating the message of Jesus' love and forgiveness to people around the globe.

If you have training in radio, web design, journalism, photography, music, or drama, you can make an impact by telling the stories of God's work around the world and equipping others to do so in their cultural context.

Writers and photographers are needed who can use their skills to share the stories of what God is doing around the world to inspire others to get involved.

Technicians, programme writers and editors, play a vital role in radio ministry, often enabling those in remote areas to hear the gospel for the first time through broadcasts. Vital community health education can also be shared through radio programmes.

why not consider using your skills in mission?

If you are gifted in communication and have a desire to share what God is doing around the world,
